

DANIEL ITALIANO

Daniel Italiano is an experienced commercial insurance broker with over 13 years in the industry. He specializes in a range of commercial insurance products, including but not limited to property, general liability, professional liability and cyber. Daniel is known for his meticulous attention to detail and commitment to client satisfaction, providing tailored insurance solutions that offer comprehensive coverage and peace of mind.

In addition to his expertise in commercial insurance, Daniel has a passion for classic and exotic cars, often helping his commercial clients insure their valuable collections. He understands that your classic or exotic car is as unique as you and your business. He will make sure that the car is insured for what it is actually worth, guaranteeing full value in the event of an insurable incident. You can even get the car back, no matter the condition, ensuring that you can still keep those cherished memories intact.

BROKERAGE OVERVIEW

Oracle RMS was founded in 2011 by Michael Di Nardo and his friend and business partner, John Ferraro. Michael and John had accumulated over four decades of combined insurance industry experience prior to starting Oracle RMS.

While we understand that a one-size-fits-all policy approach may be effective for some insurance brokerages, that is not our approach. This is why we provide you with a different kind of insurance strategy; one that is customized to you and your unique needs.
